Stanza/ line	Poem	Comment
1/1	I'm broken inside and can't feel.	contraction's I'm and can't Why?
2	The damage is done, I can hardly breathe.	the poet also uses consonance" the damage is done, I can barely breath"
3	Ripped apart and torn to pieces,	Are ripped and torn synonym s? The same meaning. She's hurt but someone she loved Who promise d her the world
4	My once strong heart is now deceased.	Poet makes use of metonymy in line 4 and 6. To slow down the rhythm of the poem strong and deceased opposite words Stanza 1 line 4 the speaker to herself as deceased;so defeated fits well Her heart is deceased could have an ambiguous meaning It didn't stop beating as in a literal sense . Rather dead to emotions due to her hurt
2/5	I keep recalling the messages in my head,	guys in the second stanza they talk about messages. what could me the messages that she is recalling because after all that's how their relationship ended The conversations they had The heart sore words he told her Kept on playing on her thoughts

6	Making me wish that I was dead.	Poet makes use of metonymy in line 4 and 6 To slow down the rhythm of the poem
7	So much of anger, so filled with hate.
8	I must be the reason for our love to dissipate.
		Why does stanza 3 sentences all start in small letters and the rest of the poem have all capital letters?
3/9	I never wanted it to end this way.
10	theres so much more I wanted to say.
11	but I guess he had just had enough of me,	The word "but" indicates a change is about to happen! That she is comes to an understanding of the break up The word but; represents uncertainty
12	even after apologising immensely.
4/13	So here I am alive, yet dead inside.	Guys, the poet is so much lonely that no one is recognising that she is experiencing hell in her life... So she feels dead inside but happy to be alive At the loss of her love "So here I'm alive, yet dead inside" is paradox .. Right ??
14	All I know, my best, I have tried.	She's tried her best to save her relationship but her partners mind was made up to split on her...

15	Left feeling completely worthless.
16	Falling apart and still nobody notices....	The writer also uses ellipsis in the last line Ellipses is usually used for a pause, hesitation or an unfinished thought. In this case I would say the writer used it to make us either ponder over the fact that no one is noticing her fall apart or she could use it as a dramatic effect for us to think she's hesitating to express more I say dramatic because an ellipsis is usually 3 dots here it's 4

GENERAL Comments

	Explanation/Support
The poem consists of 4 stanzas (16lines), each of which are 4lines each know as a Quatrain..
There's a broken rhyme scheme as well; Stanza 2 rhymes
The poem is narrative which is lyric	we can explain this by saying its a female poet expressing her feelings in this case how she feels after a break up. All the stanzas rhyme adds to musical feel
So it means it's slow Nd sad

Rhyme scheme differs	Stanza 2 and 3 would be a rhyming couplet head and dead in stanza 2 line 1 &2 Way & say stanza 3

Term	Definition	Where in poem
Tropes	Trope: The use of a word, phrase, or image in a way not intended by its normal signification.
Schemes	Scheme: A change in standard word order or pattern.
Diction	refer to the linguistic style, the vocabulary, and the metaphors used in the writing of poetry	The diction used creates the mood or atmosphere in this case it creates a very sad and depressing mood with the words like broken , damaged, ripped , dead etc
Syntax	the way in which words and punctuation are used and arranged to form phrases, clauses and sentences. This can mean the selection of a word or the word's tense, the arrangement of the words and the selection of the punctuation.	Feeling heart broken / sad as you can see lot of punctuation marks are use in this poem
Point about relationships	What is the main idea of the speaker?	To express her pain and despite it all she survived To regain sympathy as well To make us feel sorry for her And to imagine how heart breaks are like Defeated by her lover Defeated by her emotions I think if you said defeated with the situation would be better but not her emotions. Her emotions are expressing what she feels so she feels defeated that would sound better don't you think ?

		She can be defeated emotionally by love or relationship. And her thoughts As she did not get to do or say what she wanted to shes very sad and heartbroken it sounds like she was really in love and put alot off effort in this relationship. but at the end she was disappointed with the outcome of it
Mood		Depressed It evokes sad emotions, depression, selflessness Emotionally damaged
Tone	we were discussing tone cause;it a poems sound; formal; loud; aggressive; etc	Tone I think it's angry Calm Tone is hurtful, remorseful, defeated Tone is hurtful, remorseful, defeated-why defeated by who???
