Dear Student

I trust that you are still on track with your studies. This tutorial letter contains information about your examination paper.

It is important to work through all your study material before attempting the examination paper. When revising your working for the exam try to simulate the exam conditions. In other words, no study material to consult and two hours to finish.

The examination paper will comprise two sections. Section A will comprise 5 practical questions that will count 55 marks and Section B will comprise 30 multiple choice questions that will count 45 marks.

The assignments should give you a good indication of the kind of questions you can expect in the multiple-choice section of the examination paper. You will have two hours to complete the 5 practical questions that count 55 marks (out of a total of 100) and the 30 multiple choice questions that count 45 marks (out of a total of 100).

All the best for your studies and the examination.
