1 INTRODUCTION

Dear Student

Welcome to the module AUE2602. We shall do our best to make your study of this course interesting and rewarding. You will be well on your way to success if you start studying early in the semester and decide to do your assignments properly.

Students must be registered for a myLife e-mail address and must be able to access myUnisa in order to access their study material, submit assignments, gain access to the Library functions and various learning resources, download study material, “chat” to their lecturers and fellow students about their studies and the challenges they encounter, and participate in online discussion forums.

Only some tutorial letters will be posted to students, however, we encourage you to utilise the online learning platform. All the learning material is available on myUnisa with useful links to assist you in mastering a perceived difficult subject like auditing. In this module you will be guided through the content by working through the learning units either on myUnisa or the printed version.

We hope that you will have a very enjoyable and successful semester of study.

1.1 To get started on myUnisa

Based on a Unisa decision, for this module you will only receive a printed study guide and tutorial letter 101 (this tutorial letter). The other tutorial letters of less than 20 pages are not printed and is electronically available on myUnisa. You must be registered on myUnisa to be able to access study material, submit your assignments, gain access to the library functions and various learning resources, to “chat” to your lecturer or e-tutor and fellow students about your studies and the challenges that you might encounter, and to participate in online discussion forums, blogs or self-assessments.

In addition to registering on myUnisa, it is crucial that you activate your myLife e-mail address, as all your official correspondence regarding this module will be sent to your myLife address and not your private e-mail address. Please consult with the Study@Unisa publication for more information on the activation of your myLife e-mail address as well as obtaining access to the myUnisa module site.

Go to the website <https://my.unisa.ac.za> and login with your student number and password. Then you will see AUE2602 in your row of modules, in the orange bar across the top of the webpage.

1.2 How to study this module online

This module is taught online — this means that it is a different experience from some of your other modules at Unisa.

- All your study material and learning activities are available online, on myUnisa. Limited printed material will be provided. However, you will benefit from utilising the online platform.

- Attempt to submit all of your assignments online. If you submit your assignments online, make sure that you submit them on myUnisa in the required format (PDF). (Remember: submitting your assignments online is faster and safer than by post.)
- This means that most of the communication between yourself and the University also happens online — by e-mail, in the Discussion Forums and through the FAQ's tool. The semester period is very short; therefore communicating with you online is also most effective.

8 ASSESSMENT

8.1 Assessment criteria

For the assessment criteria of this module, we refer you to the learning outcomes of the various topics covered in the study guide.

8.2 Assessment plan

Assignments and learning

Assignments assess your progress and learning and must be submitted before the due dates. As you do the assignments, study the reading texts, consult other resources, and discuss the work with fellow students or tutors, you are actively engaged in learning.

Compulsory assignment

You are required to submit the compulsory Assignment 01 or Assignment 02 before the due date to obtain admission to the examination. Admission will be obtained by submitting the Assignment 01 or Assignment 02 and not by the marks you obtain for it. No admission will be considered if you did not submit one of these two assignments before the due date.

The marks you obtained for Assignment 01 and Assignment 02 will contribute towards your year mark.

General remarks

- (a) Both Assignment 01 and Assignment 02 is included in this tutorial letter.
- (b) The compulsory assignment (number 01 and/or 02), must be submitted on or before the due date to obtain admission to the examination. Make sure that it is marked as "01" or "02".
- (c) It is in your own interest to retain a copy of proof that the compulsory assignment (number 01 and/or 02) was submitted so that you can produce this in the event that there should afterwards be any dispute concerning whether or not the assignment was received.
- (d) A year mark of 20% will contribute to your final mark. The marks that you obtain for Assignment 01 and Assignment 02 will contribute towards your year mark for the module. The final mark is calculated as follows:

5% x mark obtained for compulsory Assignment 01, plus

15% x mark obtained for Assignment 02 (may also be used as a compulsory assignment)

80% x mark obtained in the examination (sub-minimum of 40%)

The sub-minimum of 40% implies that if you obtain a mark of less than 40% in the examination, your year mark will not be taken into account.

IMPORTANT:

TO GET ADMISSION TO THE EXAMINATION, YOU MUST SUBMIT ASSIGNMENT 01 OR ASSIGNMENT 02 BEFORE THE DUE DATE.

YOUR MARKS FOR BOTH ASSIGNMENTS 01 AND 02 WILL BE USED TO DETERMINE YOUR YEAR MARK.

Plagiarism

Plagiarism is the act of taking words, ideas and thoughts of others and passing them off as your own. It is a form of theft, which involves a number of dishonest academic activities.

Studies @ Unisa Disciplinary Codes (2018) is given to all students at registration. Students are advised to study the Code, especially Chapter 3: 1.18 and 1.19. Also please read the University's Copyright Infringement and Plagiarism Policy.

All your assignments must be your own work. You will receive 0% for your whole assignment if it's deemed that plagiarism was committed in any part of the assignment and you may also be subject to disciplinary proceedings by the University.

Everyone must obtain the required skills to ensure that you will be able to make a valuable contribution in the workplace.

PLEASE NOTE: Enquiries about assignments must be addressed to assign@unisa.ac.za.

QUESTION80 marks

MobileMob Limited (hereafter referred to as MobileMob), is a global mobile telecommunications operator listed on both the JSE and the New York Stock Exchange.

Corporate governance in the company

As a result of the recent update of the King III report and the release of the King IV report, the shareholders requested a review of the company's current corporate governance practices with reference to the changes in the report.

The company secretary provided you with the following schedule of directors:

Board of directors

L Maharaj
 AC de Villiers
 G du Plessis

Chairperson and executive director
 Chief Executive Officer (CEO)
 Marketing director (an executive director)

L Rabada	Non-executive director
S Domingo	Non-executive director – retired as CEO last year
R de Kock	Non-executive director
I Amla (CA(SA)	Non-executive director

Except for S Domingo, the non-executive directors have no significant relationship with MobileMob.

Although MobileMob has an audit committee, they do not have any other committees.

Revenue and receipts

Due to the large volume of daily transactions that occur at MobileMob Ltd, their revenue and receipts cycle is highly automated and they have strict controls in place to prevent employees from making unauthorised changes to the debtors' masterfile. However, they have been experiencing issues when processing receipts (payments received) from customers.

Continuity of operations

Shareholders are also concerned about the risk of the loss of data and the continuity of MobileMob's operations due to a recent online security threat.

Payroll and personnel

Mr Novice is part of the internal audit department of MobileMob. He has identified the following risks relating to the timekeeping function in the payroll and personnel cycle whilst planning for the upcoming internal audit.

- Risk 1: There is a risk that employees can clock in and then leave the premises.
- Risk 2: There is a risk that an employee can clock a card for a fictitious employee.
- Risk 3: There is a risk that employees clock in for absent fellow employees.
- Risk 4: There is a risk that hours on the clockcard are incorrectly calculated for normal and / or overtime.
- Risk 5: There is a risk that normal hours can be counted as overtime hours (which have a higher pay rate).

This is the first time Mr Novice will be involved with the internal audit of the payroll and personnel cycle. He is very worried and has looked up his study notes on some of the internal controls relevant to the payroll and personnel cycle:

- Entry and exit points to the work area should be limited (preferably one);
- Before the batch of clockcards is transferred for payroll preparation, the section head should check and sign the batch control sheet;
- At the end of a wage period, the section administration clerk should collect all clockcards for the period and agree the number of cards to the list of employees within the section.
- At the end of the wage period, the section administration clerk should collect all clockcards for the period, divide the cards into workable batches (e.g. 25) and complete a batch control sheet.
- Details of the batch should be entered in a batch register, which will accompany the clockcards to payroll preparation.
- Clockcards to be prepared by the personnel department, strictly in terms of the authorised employee list, and placed on racks at the entry points.

- Entry and exit points to the work area should be protected by a “turnstile” type mechanism;
- At the end of the wage period, the section administration clerk should collect all clockcards for the period and calculate the ordinary time worked and the overtime worked.
- Entry and exit points to the work area should be supervised during clocking periods.
- Before the batch of clockcards is transferred for payroll preparation, the section head should check the calculations;

Bank account access

You heard Ms S Stark complain that gaining access to the bank account in a computerised system is just too much of a hassle and she wishes that the password would just stay the same; she struggles to remember it if it changes so often.

Acquisitions and Payments cycle

Mr J Snow identified the following risks in the receiving of goods and recording of purchases functions of the acquisitions and payroll cycle.

Risks in the receiving of goods function:

- A. Acceptance of damaged or broken items.
- B. Acceptance of short deliveries as full deliveries.
- C. Acceptance of items not ordered.
- D. Theft by employees or outside parties, e.g. collusion with supplier delivery personnel.

Risks in the recording of purchases function:

- E. Recording of incorrect amounts arising from incorrect purchase invoices where the quantity, quality or type of goods are not as ordered or received.
- F. The raising of fictitious purchases / creditors by the introduction of invoices which are for goods never ordered or received by the company.
- G. Delays, misallocation and posting errors when entering details into accounting records resulting in reconciliation problems and failure to make use of favourable settlement terms.

The internal audit department provided Mr Snow with the following list of internal controls that he may implement to address the risks.

- On arrival of the delivery vehicle, the goods receiving clerk should check the quantity and description of goods delivered against the purchase order and the supplier delivery note.
- All casts, extensions and calculations on the invoice should be reperformed.
- The purchase invoices received from the supplier should be matched to the corresponding goods received note, delivery note and purchase order for quantity and description of goods.
- On arrival of the delivery vehicle, the goods receiving clerk should reject all incorrect deliveries and clearly identify rejections on both copies of the delivery note and purchase order.

- On arrival of the delivery vehicle, the goods receiving clerk should accept goods short delivered but identify such goods clearly on the delivery notes and purchase order (the quantity actually accepted must be clearly identified).
- The purchase invoices received from the supplier should be reviewed to confirm that the amounts on the invoice have been allocated to the correct account e.g. inventory, consumables, stationery.
- There should be a designated goods receiving section which should be physically secured and access controlled.
- On arrival of the delivery vehicle, goods should be offloaded in the presence of a goods receiving clerk who should sign the supplier delivery note.
- When a requisition is made out to initiate an order, the account to which the purchase must be allocated in the purchase journal should be selected from the “official list of accounts” and entered onto the requisition and then transferred to the order, to ensure the clerk responsible for the allocation of the purchase will know which account to allocate it to.

Mr Snow is uncertain which of these internal controls will mitigate which of the risks he identified.

- Misused order forms – placing orders for private purchases.

Inventory

Due to the high value of the inventory of Bags Galore, the year-end inventory count is considered high risk.

Personnel

Bags Galore is expanding and therefore they are employing more personnel. Management is in the process of designing appropriate internal controls to ensure that only valid new employees are added to the Masterfile; and that only valid changes are made to the employee masterfile.

Credit sales

The following is a brief description of the functions in an everyday credit sales transaction of Bags Galore:

1. Once an order is received from an existing client, the order clerk immediately records it on an internal sales order (ISO) and sends it to the warehouse clerk who picks and despatches it.
2. The warehouse clerk uses the ISO, which serves as a picking list to pick out goods from the warehouse and then sends the goods straight away to despatch.>>Author do you mean picking list? DM
3. The despatch clerk receives the goods from the warehouse; loads it directly on the delivery vehicle and leaves for delivery.
4. The customer is given an invoice on delivery to indicate the goods delivered and the amount due.
